FINAL REJECTION

The rejection under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting is withdrawn in view of the Terminal Disclaimer filed on 2/6/06.

The rejections over Shyn et al. (US Pat. 6,568,801), Kasio (US Pat. 3,950,761) and Inoue et al. (US Pat. 6,773,099) are withdrawn in view of the amendments to the claims..

CLAIM OBJECTION

Claim 1 is objected to in that the recitations “the fluid pressure” and “the reservoir” on line 3 and “the pressure” on line 9 lacks clear antecedent basis. Correction is required.

Claims 13-14 are objected to because they depend on canceled claims 9-10. Correction is required.

CLAIM REJECTIONS

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-8 and 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Correction or clarification is required.

In claim 1, it is unclear what the “rupture pressure” is, where it comes from, how the fluid reservoir can be “ruptured” since no means for perform the rupturing function recited in this claim, how the fluid pressure can “meet” the rupture pressure on line 3, how the predetermined level can be “related” to the rupture pressure on line 10 and how the recitation “rupture pressure” and “a fluid reservoir that will rupture” is read on the preferred embodiment or seen on the drawings.

The remaining claims are dependent from the rejected claim 1 therefore also considered indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

Claims 1-3, 5-7 and 12-14 are rejected under 35 USC 102 (b) as being anticipated Ryan et al (US 6,067,906).

As the best construed, Ryan et al discloses in Figures 1- 9 an ink dispenser for dispensing printing fluid into a printer cartridge which has a fluid reservoir (11) that will rupture when the fluid pressure within the reservoir meets or exceeds a rupture pressure. the dispenser including:

- an ink reservoir (16) having an ink outlet (14) for fluid communication with the fluid reservoir (11) of the inkjet printer cartridge;
- means (28) for applying pressure to said ink reservoir (16) in order to force ink through the outlet and into the fluid ;
- reservoir (11) of the inkjet printer cartridge;
- means (22) for limiting the pressure of said ink forced through the outlet (14) to a predetermined level related to the rupture pressure of the fluid reservoir of the inkjet printer cartridge;
- wherein the means (22) for limiting pressure comprises a means for limiting applied pressure to said ink reservoir (16);
- wherein the ink reservoir (16) comprises a deformable membrane (bag, lines 44-46 column3);

Art Unit: 2861

- wherein the means (22) for limiting applied pressure to said ink reservoir includes a resilient member (spring return type, lines 1-3, column 4) having deformation characteristics selected to limit said pressure to a predetermined level;
- wherein the resilient member (22) is located between the ink reservoir (16) and the means for applying pressure (28) to the ink reservoir;
- wherein the resilient member (22) comprises a spring; and
- wherein the spring (29) includes a platform (23) arranged to abut the membrane (16).

Claims 1-5, 7-8 and 11-14 are rejected under 35 USC 102 (e) as being anticipated Yuen (US 6,799,610).

As the best construed, Yuen discloses in Figures 1-25 an ink dispenser for dispensing printing fluid into a printer cartridge which has a fluid reservoir (36, Figure 3) that will rupture when the fluid pressure within the reservoir meets or exceeds a rupture pressure, the dispenser including:

- an ink reservoir (16) having an ink outlet (86, Figure 11) for fluid communication with the fluid reservoir (36) of the inkjet printer cartridge;
- means (12) for applying pressure to said ink reservoir (16) in order to force ink through the outlet and into the fluid reservoir (36) of the inkjet printer cartridge;
- means (80, 82, 84) for limiting the pressure of said ink forced through the outlet (86) to a predetermined level related to the rupture pressure of the fluid reservoir of the inkjet printer cartridge;
- wherein the means for limiting pressure comprises a means for limiting applied pressure to said ink reservoir (16);
- wherein the means for applying pressure (12) comprise a handle and the reservoir (16) is located within the handle (12) (Figure 3);
- wherein the ink reservoir (16) comprises a deformable membrane (column 5, lines 1-15);

- wherein the means for limiting applied pressure to said ink reservoir includes a resilient member having deformation characteristics selected to limit said pressure to a predetermined level;- wherein the resilient member (22) comprises a spring; and
- wherein the spring (29) includes a platform (90) arranged to abut the membrane (16).

RESPONSE TO APPLICANT'S ARGUMENTS

The applicant's arguments with respect to the prior art rejection have been carefully considered and have been traversed in view of the new grounds of rejection over Ryan et al and Yuen references.

CONCLUSION

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
